

IN AND ABOUT WESTERLY

Children's Day Observance—Outing of Lorraine Employees—Sunday Service Open at Watch Hill—Fire District Committee to Report Wednesday Evening—Mother-in-Law and Daughter-in-Law of Same Name Die on Same Day, From Same Cause.

Children's day of the Sabbath school of the Seventh-day Baptist church in Westerly was observed Saturday morning in substitution for the regular church service, and the attendance was larger than usual. There were special decorations arranged by John Smith's class. The interesting order of exercises was under the direction of Mrs. Carey Main, assisted by Miss Ruth Burdick, and was as follows: March, Onward Christian Soldiers; recitation, Welcome to Children's Day; Dorothy Langworthy, singing, by the school; prayer and response; song, Little Clocks Are We, by Rhoda Young, Phoebe Hall, Ruth Davis, Happy Wells, Myra Looftor, Dorothy Langworthy, Harold Crandall, Reginald Dean and Albino Hall; recitation, A Children's Day Vision, Daisy Hall; singing, by school; recitation, Rejoice, 'Tis Children's Day, Clifford Langworthy, Alexander Austin and Lawrence Loomis; recitation, A Greeting, Dear People, by Marion Hiscox, following in singing the Doxology; song, Joy, Belts, Catherine Clarke, Ruth Crandall, Elizabeth Hemphill, Hilda Young, Doris Burdick, Ruth Mackenzie, recitation, Not Self, But Others, Albino Hall; solo, Scatter Your Gold, Harold Crandall; offering and recitation, Reginald Dean, Charles Church, Ruth Davis, Rhoda Young; solo, with violin obligato, Spring is Here, Edith Crandall; recitation, So Many Birds in Supper, Elizabeth Austin, Martha Bodick; singing, by the school; recitation, When I Get Like Old Grandpa, Charles Church; recitation, Robin Redbreast, Hilda Young; solo, Robin's Song, Albino Hall; chorus, Ruth Davis, Happy Wells, Phoebe Hall, Dorothy Langworthy, Harold Crandall, Reginald Dean; recitation, The Message, Miles Kenyon; remarks, Rev. Samuel H. The recently organized Westerly Yacht club is arranging for a water carnival in the Pawcatuck river on the fourth of July, the feature of which will be a procession of gaily decorated boats for three prizes, and it is planned to have general decorations on both sides of the river. There will also be a concert by the Westerly band and a generous display of fireworks. The extent of the celebration will depend upon the generosity of the contributors of the people.

The employees of the Lorraine Manufacturing company held their annual outing at Brightman's pond Saturday, making the trip in buses. The day was spent in field sports and prizes were offered for the various events, in some of which the Westerly club competed. The operatives also enjoyed a famous Rhode Island clam bake such as is served in no other place in Rhode Island as at Brightman's pond. The outing was a pleasurable success and preparations are already made for another a year hence, each agreeing to set apart ten cents of his wages each week to meet the expenses, as was done for the outing this year.

WHAT MOTHERS SHOULD KNOW

We believe all mothers should know that Cuticura soap and ointment afford a pure, sweet and most economical treatment for itching, burning infantile humors, eczemas, rashes and irritations which, if neglected, often become chronic and cause a lifetime of misery because of pain and disfigurement. A warm bath with Cuticura soap, followed by a gentle application of Cuticura ointment usually brings immediate relief, baby sleeps, worn-out, worried parents rest and peace falls on a distracted household.

There was a brisk trade in the tinware business in Westerly during the past week, much to the pleasure and surprise of the dealers, who were at a loss to account for the unusual demand. It is now made plain, for there are several couples in Westerly who were married on June 25. Just ten years ago today, and some are to observe their tin weddings. Among the number are Major and Mrs. Arthur N. Nash, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stanton, Mr. and Mrs. W. Frank Greenman and Mr. and Mrs. John Phillips.

At Watch Hill religious services were held Sunday in the Union chapel for the first time with a large congregation in attendance. The services will be conducted regularly by the Protestant denominations, preceded by mass by clergymen from the Church of the Immaculate Conception of Westerly. The music for the Protestant services will be conducted by Organist William G. Hammond of New York, the quartette being composed of Mrs. William G. Hammond, contralto, Charles F. Hammond, baritone, John R. Brierly, tenor, and Miss Marcella Spencer, soprano.

Among the clergymen who will preach during the summer are Rev. D. Parker Morgan, Church of the Heavenly Father, New York; Rev. Dr. W. H. P. Faunce, president of Brown University; Rev. L. Charles Seelye, ex-president of Smith college; Rev. Rockwell Harmon Potter, First Congregational church, Hartford; Rev. Henry Everston Cobb, West End Collegiate church, Hartford; Rev. Dr. S. D. McConnell, All Souls' church, New York, and Rev. William Frederick Williams, Christ church, Westerly.

At the annual meeting of the Westerly fire district, held several months ago, owing to the additional duties required by the care of the newly installed modern fire alarm system, the salary of the chief engineer, Samuel G. Cottrell, was advanced from $100 to $250 a year, and after the chief was re-elected for a full term of one year. At the same meeting a committee was appointed on the general betterment of the fire department, and the committee was instructed to also take into consideration the feasibility of securing a chief engineer who would be required to be on continuous duty at the central firehouse, with instructions to report at the next annual meeting.

The committee is ready to report on the matter of chief engineer at the present time and will make report to a special meeting called for that purpose next Wednesday evening. According to the call the meeting is for the purpose of hearing the report of the committee appointed at the annual meeting to consider the hiring of some one as chief engineer whose headquarters should be at the engine house, and to take such action on this report as the district may deem advisable.

It is said that the committee plans to hire a successor to Chief Cottrell, who has been at the head of the department for many years, and has been mainly instrumental in bringing it up to its present standard of recognized efficiency. In order to better perform the duties of the office in cases of emergency, rare in Westerly, he has moved since the annual meeting from his residence on Quarry Hill to a place more convenient to the firehouse and to the business section of the town. He is a fireman of long experience and his continuous aim has been the betterment of the department. But some men of more or less influence are of opinion that the chief engineer is not the man for the place, that he is not as active as when he first took charge of the department, yet none can with truth declare that he is in any way deficient in the duties of a fireman of the volunteer type. Fires are not very frequent in Westerly, still some men, not members of the department, have openly urged the engaging of some fireman from the Providence department to come to Westerly and take charge of the department here. Members of the committee decline to discuss their plan before its presentation to the special meeting.

Westerly was represented at the big banquet given to President William H. Taft in Infantry hall, Providence, Friday evening. Among the guests were Judge John W. Sweeney, Senator Louis W. Arnold and Representatives Albert H. Langworthy and Joseph T. Murphy.

Mrs. Elizabeth Evans of Westerly, aged 65, and Mrs. Elizabeth Evans of Malden, Mass., the latter mother-in-law of the former, died Saturday morning at their respective homes. Another coincidence in the life of these women of the same name, and who died on the same day, is the fact that both were stricken with apoplexy several months ago, which eventually proved fatal. The body of the Westerly woman will be taken to Malden, where there will be a double funeral.

James McGale, one of the men that has been working in Westerly for some months with the gang in the service of the Providence Forestry company, fell from a tree in Elm street Saturday afternoon, a distance of thirty feet. He was picked up by fellow workers and carried into a nearby house, under the apprehension that his back was broken and other internal injuries sustained. A physician was summoned and after receiving treatment McGale was conveyed to his boarding house and put to bed. A few hours afterward he arose and was able to be about the house and expected to return to his work today (Monday). He says he is likely to be bothered by the pain. They will view the freshmen race from steamer Chester W. Chapin, and the variety race from the observation train.

Rev. Samuel L. Davis of Westerly made an address in the interests of the anti-saloon league at Quincy, Mass., Sunday morning.

Just after 4 o'clock Sunday morning the barn of George W. Burdick at Chase Hill was on fire and the barn was totally destroyed. The cause of the fire is not known.

It was James Francis McGuire, and not Mary McGuire, who was among the graduates of St. Michael's parochial school. The mistake was due to carelessness, as the copy was in the plainest of print.

That doe and fawn in Wilcox park has become a very attractive feature and is the means of making many more women and children better acquainted with the beauties of the park. Superintendent Coon is planning for a permanent wire run and deer barn. The agitation for a system of sewage in Westerly is being resumed and it is likely to be hastened by the frequent claims made that the pollution of the Pawcatuck river is detrimental to the public health, as the sewage now emptying into the river is not properly guided seaward.

The Harvard classes of '91, '96 and '91 will be at Watch Hill next Thursday and remain there over night, leaving for New London Friday morning, accompanied by the Westerly band, to attend the Yale-Harvard boat races. They will view the freshmen race from steamer Chester W. Chapin, and the variety race from the observation train.

MYSTIC

Bindless-Brown Marriage at North Stonington—Funerals, J. Alden Rathbun, Daniel MacInnis—Sermon to Masses—Pawcatuck Defeats Mystic, 10-5.

Saturday evening at 7.30 o'clock at the home of Col. and Mrs. James Brown of North Stonington, their daughter, Miss Helen Brown, was united in marriage with Frank Bindless of Mystic in the presence of about 150 relatives and friends. The house had been beautifully decorated by one of Newport's artists. The wedding march was Wagner's bridal chorus from Lohengrin, played by Horace Hollister of North Stonington as the bride's father entered the parlor. Miss Emily Noyes and Miss Ellen Holmes of Mystic, Miss Anna Carey of Hartford, Miss Emeline South of Providence, dressed in white marquisette over pink, were bridesmaids. Mrs. William Dawson of Savannah, Ga., a sister of the bride, dressed in pink marquisette over pink, was matron of honor. Charles Gilliland of Mystic was best man.

The bride was attired in white mesaline with lace and pearl trimmings. She wore a veil caught up with a brooch, the gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses. The ceremony was performed by Rev. F. M. Hollister of the Congregational church of North Stonington, the ring service being used.

After the ceremony a reception was held and dinner was served by a Stonington caterer. Mr. and Mrs. Bindless left for a wedding trip of two weeks and on their return will reside on 22 Denison avenue, Mystic, where a furnished home awaits them. Guests were present from Mystic, Westerly, Providence, Hartford, Norwich, Savannah, Ga., and New York. The bride received beautiful gifts including checks, cut glass, gold, silver and ornaments. Mr. Bindless is a popular young man in the village, where he conducts a marine repairing shop on Water street.

Sunday morning, Rev. C. T. Hatch had present 73 members of Charity and Relief lodge, F. and A. M., and thirty members of Charity chapter, Order of Eastern Star, in commemoration of St. John's day. Mr. Hatch took for his text Psalm 73, 24th verse, Thou shalt guide me with thy counsel and afterward receive me to glory. Special music was rendered by the choir. Mrs. Ira F. Noyes sang an offertory solo. There's a Beautiful Land on high, and a quartette, Halsey Parker, John P. Noyes, Thomas W. Ryley and Frank Bucklin rendered two selections.

FUNERAL

J. Alden Rathbun.
The funeral of J. Alden Rathbun, who died at his home on Ashby street Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock and was largely attended. The floral offerings were a great number and especially beautiful. The services were conducted by Rev. Welcome E. Bates, pastor of the Union Baptist church, of which Mr. Rathbun was a member and also a deacon, and by Rev. George H. Miner, a former pastor of the church, who pronounced the eulogy. Burial will take place this (Monday) morning at the convenience of the family. Flags were at half mast about town on Sunday out of respect to such a good citizen.

Pawcatuck Won.
There was a small attendance at the baseball game on Industrial park Saturday afternoon when the Pawcatuck and Mystic teams played, the home team meeting defeat, 10 to 5. The playing on either side was not up to the standard and many errors were made, which caused a great deal of dissatisfaction.

Funeral of Daniel MacInnis.
The funeral of Daniel MacInnis was held on Saturday afternoon from his home on Stanton lane and was attended by many relatives and friends. The services were conducted by Rev. Welcome E. Bates, pastor of the Union Baptist church. The bearers were Albert and Charles Stanton, George Brown and George Carpenter.
